

Adjudication: A guide on running one from start to finish

09:30 - 13:00

30 April 2020

Quigg Golden Maidstone

Half day course

Adjudication is a dispute resolution mechanism that has applied to the UK's construction industry since the late 1990's. It is designed to provide swift and cost effective resolution to disputes between parties to construction contracts compared with arbitration or litigation.

This course is tailored for construction professionals and will provide a practical guide to understanding current law and best practice in adjudication.

The course will address:

- What is adjudication appropriate for?
- How do I know if a dispute has crystallised?
- How to prepare for adjudication
- Tactics in adjudication
- Managing the adjudication process
- Advantages/disadvantages of adjudication
- What is the effect of an adjudicator's decision?

About us

Quigg Golden are leading specialists in the field of construction and procurement law. Our team of legal, construction and procurement professionals (many dual qualified) provide a comprehensive service for contentious and non-contentious construction and procurement matters.
