JCT Contract Management

JCT contracts are some of the most recognisable standard form contracts used within the building and construction industry. This unique 8-week course is designed to give attendees the vital knowledge they need to effectively administer and deliver projects using the JCT suite of contracts.

The course will provide practical knowledge of the JCT Suite of Contracts and relevant law with an ultimate aim of enabling attendees to make their JCT contracts more successful.

The course is designed for construction or legal professionals (employers, architects, contract administrators, contractors and subcontractors) that are in any way involved in the procurement, administration and/or delivery of projects under JCT contracts, and wish to develop their understanding and key commercial skills necessary for management.

The Schedule:

- 11 April: Introduction to JCT
- 18 April: General Obligations, Roles & Responsibilities
- 25 April: Design, Quality & Defects
- 02 May: Payment
- 09 May: Time
- 16 May: Claims for Money
- 23 May: Insurance, CWs, Bonds, Guarantees, Fluctuations
- 30 May: Termination

COURSE DETAILS

- This is an eight-week course, held weekly, each Thursday evening, commencing 11 April 2024 and ending 30 May 2024
- Quigg Golden offers ongoing support throughout the duration of the course
- Each seminar starts at 6.00pm and finishes at 8.00pm
- The schedule is found on the previous page

This course will provide attendees with knowledge of the fundamental principles of how the JCT contracts operate and the knowledge to efficiently manage JCT contracts from tender/procurement to practical completion and final account.

The course will focus on the 2016 editions of the Standard Building Contract, Design & Build Contract and the associated Sub-Contracts. Particular attention will be paid to the selection and suitability of each contract, alongside an explanation of the different roles and responsibilities under each contract.

Practical tips for proficient administration will be presented together with how to correctly and efficiently make or respond to claims for extensions of time and loss and expense.

Quigg Golden has been successfully delivering courses on the management of contracts for over nine years. Those who undertake our courses get a head start over their peers and an insight into the practical and legal administration of construction contracts.

Quigg Golden specialises in contract law, procurement, contract disputes and the JCT suite of contracts. Every day we see the problems that arise from failure to properly manage JCT and other standard form contracts.
